Ussat-2 is Pakistan’s third satellite next to Ussat-1 and Ussat-3,” Baig said. The system is said to be similar to the new Ussat-2 satellite launched in July, which is designed to increase Internet speeds across Pakistan. Ussat-1 with a coverage of 15 million people is aimed at providing services to the Jammub and the latest addition Ussat-3 – with a coverage area of 21 million people – is set to provide even better connectivity services. As far as Ussat-2 is concerned, it will enhance the ability of mobile phone operators to offer better data services by providing higher speeds of data transfer. Baig said that the satellite will provide a range of services including mobile, Internet, tele-medicine and education. “Ussat-2 will work on a CDMA, FSS and PCS (personal communication system) band of 1618MHz and 1625MHz,” he said, adding that it is the first time that such services are being launched in Pakistan. “We will also market Ussat-2.com for commercial purposes. It will be available for a period of a year, after which it will be transferred to government and will be managed by the PTA,” Baig said. Talking about Pakistan Telecommunication Company Limited’

The Virtual Human Interaction: From Static to Moving avatars with Haakon Brauthoff and Meik Wiking,. The Visible Human Project is an effort to create a detailed data set of cross-sectional photographs of the human body, in order to facilitate anatomy visualizationÂ . by Nikita Danilov Â· 2020 â€” The evolution of medical imaging from 2D- to 3D-based visualization has led to a need for a description of human anatomy in 3D space. This paper briefly reviews prior approaches to 3D patient-specific anatomy models, 3D visualizations of anatomical structures, and the development of the Visible Human Project (VHP).. For instance, compression of the brain to a single photograph, instead of serial. Visible Human has served as the model for 3D images of the human body as well as.
