What's New in the?

The Eyedropper allows you to select an area of pixels and assign it to a new layer, so that it can be edited independently. The Gradient Tool is used to create gradient fills or to adjust the intensity of the color of the fill. You can also use the Gradient Tool to paint with a color or gradient to create a new fill layer. The Magic Wand Tool is useful for erasing large areas of unwanted pixels. The Pen Tool is used to draw and fill shapes. You can also use the Pen Tool to draw lines and shapes. The Spot Healing Brush and Clone Stamp allow you to select a section of your image and use it to repair small problems. The Shadows and Highlights tools allow you to make various adjustments to dark and light values. Layers & Effects: These are useful for creating special effects, or adding filters. Effects are often included with a Photoshop preset, such as Pixelate or Vintage Photo. There are even some presets designed specifically for animation. Lighting effects are useful for adding highlights, shadows, and cast shadows, and for adding reflections to images. Patterns and textures are useful for creating various backgrounds and for bringing variety to an image. Effects are applied to the layers they're linked to. If you apply a drop shadow to an image layer, you can apply it to the rest of the layers in your document. The New Document, Add Layer, and Select Layer dialog boxes allow you to control the layers that appear in your document. Photoshop does a good job of helping you organize layers and prevent them from being accidentally modified or deleted. Photoshop includes several tools for helping you manage layers. This video shows how to use those tools. The New Document option is in the bottom left-hand corner of your Photoshop screen. This option opens the New Document dialog box, which allows you to create a new document, choose the size and resolution of your document, and choose the type of document you want to create. The Add Layer dialog box is used to create new layers in your document. The most commonly used layers are named Layer 0, Layer 1, Layer 2, etc. You can also create a new layer for any area that you need to work on a new layer. The Select Layer dialog box is used to move or delete existing layers. To select a layer, hold the cursor over the layer name and click. To delete a layer,
