Author: Devotee from www.boast.com Program Size: 1.83 Mb Developer License: Freeware MediaPro Plus is a toolbox of 60+ media filters that will help you create, edit, play and record videos with ease. It is developed by NewLifeMedia and can easily be downloaded to your Windows PC. The software is compatible with all Windows systems. If you are running Windows 8 or 8.1, then you are ready to download the software. The rest of you should head over to the download page of MediaPro Plus. You can use the software in two ways: it is divided into two parts, a set of filters and a set of effects, which are basically bundles of filters. If you are more of a designer than a software developer, then you can have fun with the collection of filters, but the effects collection can be used to create and edit any video you might be interested in, like a funny video, a creative project, a teaching video, an informative video, a commercial video, a promotional video, a video for some kind of occasion or a special event. When you install the software, you will be welcomed with a simple installation

In the past, FTP has been primarily associated with connecting to servers that provide the files you need, but in the last decade it has expanded to include more advanced features. These are often used for transferring files through the network. Lately, the scope of FTP has widened, and it has become an integral part of the World Wide Web. The protocol helps webmasters and website owners to share files over the Internet. The FTP Control Panel allows you to manage your FTP connections and the files you transfer. As we have discussed earlier, a server can be accessed through the Internet using FTP, a file transfer protocol. FTP Control Panel is a software that manages all your FTP connections and has the ability to perform file transfers on the server. This software allows you to easily open a connection to the FTP server with just a few clicks. All the parameters that can be altered are displayed on the screen. The name of the server is displayed in the status bar. The status bar lets you know the current status of your connection and the progress of file transfer. It also shows the time remaining to complete the file transfer.

Click on the Site Manager button to access the page that contains information about all your FTP servers. The page shows the status of all your active FTP connections. You can also view the settings for each server in the Site Manager page. Under Site Manager, click on the directory where you want to upload your files. Double-click on any file to upload it to the server. On the right-hand side of the window, click on the Open button to launch your FTP file transfer. Once the file is successfully transferred to the server, you can view the details
